PASTOR'S MESSAGE

I was asked the other day about the Samaritans. Samaritans occasionally appear in the Gospels. Sometimes the Samaritans in scripture are fictional; a tool Jesus uses in a parable to make a point such as the parable of the Good Samaritan. In other cases they are actual individuals such as, the woman at the well and the Samaritan leper who was cleansed and returned to Jesus to give glory. One of the things we are told in the Gospels is there was enmity between the Samaritans and the Jews. Why?

In this part of the world where cultural memories extend back five times as long as we have been a nation, you often have to back up hundreds of years to understand where the animosity between groups started. The beginning of the hard feelings between the Samaritans and the Jews in Jesus day probably started about 930 BC. On the death of Solomon, his son Rehoboam only inherited 2 of the twelve tribes Judah and Benjamin. This was a fulfillment of a prophecy that Solomon's son would have the kingdom ripped from his hands. The other ten tribes and what would eventually become known as Samaria anointed Jeroboam to reign over them. In scripture the northern kingdom was known as Israel and the southern kingdom as Judah.

Both kingdoms transgressed the laws of God. They worshipped other gods and did not care for their neighbors. The southern kingdom was blessed from time to time with kings who sought the will of God. This never happened for the northern kingdom as, as such, God allowed the Assyrians to conquer the northern kingdom and even part of the southern kingdom in 724 BC. For the sake of Hezekiah who was a God fearing king of the southern kingdom, God spared Jerusalem and other parts of the southern kingdom from Assyrian conquest.

The Assyrians had a policy to deport conquered peoples and to replace them with other people from their empire. This helped break local national identity and made it less likely they would rebel against Assyria. Assyria instituted this policy in the northern kingdom. So successful was this strategy that many scholars are still trying to find out what happened to the lost Ten Tribes of Israel, in other words, those who were deported by the Assyrians. 2 Kings 17:24 tells us about the deportation of the northern Tribes and the settling of foreigners in the northern kingdom.

The northern kingdom was already worshipping other gods before the importation of foreign peoples which further diluted the worship of God. It was not that God was not worshipped, but worshiped in the sense of being the local god of the region. The southern kingdom would experience their own exile to Babylon in about 600 BC. Around 539 BC the exiles from Judah would return from captivity in Babylon. With new religious zeal and under the leadership of individuals such as; Jeshua, Ezra, Zerubbabel and Nehemiah, the people rebuilt the southern kingdom and the Temple.

As they were rebuilding, they wanted no part of a people who had mixed religious allegiances. The Samaritans responded by building their own temple to God. The Samaritans held to the first five books of the Bible, but not the rest of the Old Testament. Jesus, himself, mentions in the discussion with the woman at the well found in John chapter 4 that the Samaritans were confused and wrong in many of their religious beliefs and practices.

By the time of Jesus, the enmity between Jews and Samaritans had roots stretching back nearly a thousand years. Maybe even more important than this; each group claimed to be the chosen people of God and to know how to worship and serve God. The Jews probably had less religious hatred for, say, the Romans who worshiped the god Jupiter than for the Samaritans. The former they would see as stupid for their worship, but the latter would be seen as misrepresenting God. The Samaritans would have felt similarly about the Jews.

Peace in Christ,
Mark

The role of the cross

If the cross is the place where the worst thing that could happen happened, it is also the place where the best thing that could happen happened. Ultimate hatred and ultimate love met on those two crosspieces of wood. Suffering and love were brought into harmony.

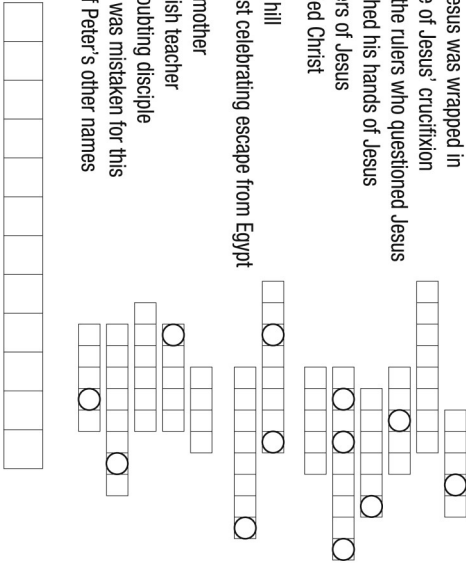

To be "saved" requires a severance from the former life as clean and sharp as though made by a knife. There must be a wall of separation between the old life and the new, a radical break. That means death — death to the old life, in order for the new to begin. ... This wall of separation, this barrier, is the cross.

—Elisabeth Elliot, A Path Through Suffering

Raindrops

Much needed rain is found in every storm. Rains come and they soften the ground, nourish the crops that are contained in the ground, even in Sault Ste. Marie which is fairly far north. The important thing is that rainfall revitalizes the soil. The rains of life bring great benefits for you as well.

“These trials are only to test your faith, to show you that it is strong and pure. It is being tested as fire tests and purifies gold – and your faith is far more precious to God than mere gold. So if your faith remains strong after being tried by fiery trials, it will bring you much praise, glory and honor on the day when Jesus Christ is revealed to the whole world.”

Let's look at the softening effect of life's rains. First off God uses the rain storms of life to challenge us to persevere so we can remain faithful to that babe born in Bethlehem so many years ago. Faith is the key to survival as Christians in this troubled world. It seems as though there is so much strength behind those extremists in the world today trying to make a mockery of us who follow our Christian faith, that survival is up to us, and on one else. Make sure we retain and maintain our faith because it is what will keep us strong as we face the storms of life each and every day, to the very end.

The ultimate benefit of rain, whether rain comes in April, summer or in the fall. Just as Joel says, the rains are a reminder of God's love. God loved us enough to send His Son Jesus to die for our sinful ways. Only Jesus could withstand the storms of our sin, and he did so willingly, that day on the cross.

Lacquered with love

Japanese artisans practice a 500-year-old Japanese art called kintsugi, or “golden joinery,” to reassemble broken pieces of pottery using a lacquer mixed with gold, silver or platinum. The premise is that brokenness doesn't render something useless or ugly. Indeed, another Japanese term, wabi-sabi, means “to find beauty in broken or old things.”

We come to Jesus broken, but he doesn't discard us. He heals us, though our scars do often remain visible – just as the spear and nail prints remained in his own body when God raised him from death. The Holy Spirit coats our wounds and fractures with the lacquer of divine love, and we become uniquely beautiful, appealing to others so they can find support for their own healing. Our scars tell them they aren't alone, while the brokenness that's part of another's faith journey assures us that we, too, have companionship along the way.

The Youth Group held an over night Lock-In March 17, we started the night bowling and then stayed at church until 7 am March 18. The Youth did a Bible study, digging into different verses and how to apply them to real life. They participated in a scavenger hunt all through church, we watched a movie and played Dodgeball, musical chairs and other games to keep them moving all night! We appreciate all the prayers and thoughts as we saw 3,4,5 am times we have not seen in years! Our next Youth Group meeting is April 9, 6:30 at church.

JESUS IS RISEN!

When Jesus' disciples saw that the stone was rolled away from his tomb, they knew he had risen. Make a moveable tomb to celebrate Easter.

What you need:

- 4 pieces of paper (brown, blue, black, yellow)
- Scissors
- Pencil
- Glue stick
- Brad fastener
- Marker

What you do:

1. Fold the brown paper in half, short side to short side. Cut along the fold. On one half, draw and cut out a large half-circle (the tomb). On the other, draw and cut out a palm-sized circle (the stone).
2. Glue the brown tomb onto the blue paper.
3. Cut a black circle (the inside of the tomb) the same size as the brown stone and glue it onto the brown tomb.
4. Place the brown stone over the black half-circle; this is the entrance. Push the brad through one edge so the stone can move from side to side.
5. Cut out a cross from the yellow paper and glue it by the tomb.
6. Write "Jesus is risen!" atop the blue paper.
